

The Western Regional Button Association is pleased to share our educational articles with the button collecting community. This article appeared in the December 2012 WRBA newsletter, Territorial News. Enjoy! And consider joining WRBA! Go to www.WRBA.us WRBA gladly offers our articles for reprint, as long as credit is given to WRBA as the source.

ELEPHANTS

The elephant is the only four-legged mammal that cannot jump.

Two highly detailed brass buttons depicting elephants—and palm trees! The button at left is tinned brass. The stamped, one-piece brass button above is one in a set that depicts Teddy Roosevelt as the hunter with his killed wildcat riding an elephant.

Call for WRBA Auction Donations

The WRBA auction is always one of the delightful times WRBA members gather to enjoy each other's company AND have an opportunity to scoop up desirable buttons and related items.

Please consider donating items for the auction. The auction is one of the vital fundraising activities.

If possible, send donated items TODAY to Joy Journey, or send a SCAN of the item to be donated. We would like to prepare an auction booklet ahead of time which will contain scans of the auction items.

Thank you for considering this worthy cause! Send scans to joyjourney@gmail.com and items by mail to:
